LET THEM TRY IT IF THEY DARE .- The forrious excitement after the election which blockaled the streets in front of the newspaper offices here as they have not been since Lincoln's assassination has now nearly subsided, and even the partisan republicans begin to admit that Tilden is elected by the votes. The next step in the conspiracy of Blaine, Chandler & Co. against the peace of the country is to count Tilden out and Hayes in; and it begins to look as if this was fully resolved on by the worst element of the officeholding party at Washington. Let them try if they dare! Tweed presamed too long on the forbearance of the people of New York—and where is he now? Blaine and his sort have played the game of Tweed upou a national arena, and their downfall, when they attempt to cheat the nation out of its choice for President, will be all the more dramatic and annihilating than Tweed's. They think the American people are fools-and they have some excuse for it, just as Tweed hadbut they will find the folly on the other side of the account. It is a desperate game the carpet has rascals of the South, aided by the Blaines and Chandlers of the North are playing—the stakes are high, and they think it pardonable to put a few aces up their sleeve, now that luck has gone against them. But they will find their own followers deserting them when it comes to inaugurating a new civil war in order to thrust upon us a President we never elected. Certainly General Sherman, and probably even Sheridan and Grant themselves, will shrink at the last moment from fastening fraud upon the whole nation with the bayonet. They saw no harm in beyoneting a city or a state into sub-mission to the Louisiana Returning Board; but to plaster forged certificates of the Louisiana election over the whole body politic is a very different matter, easy enough to conceive, but very hard to carry out .- Springfield Republi

CREMATION IN GEORGIA. - In Augusta, on Saturday evening last, the body of a man who died on the 3d in Atlanta was cremated under Grubbs with my Mules and Horses, giving them the direction of "The Oriental Order of Humanity" The coffin, a handsome rosewood, upon which was engraved upon a silver plate, William R. Suppus; age, 42; Died November 4th, 1876," was placed upon the pile, and the order was then gathered in a circle, solemn, grand, and peculiar, around the mortal remains of the deceased brother. After the singular prayer of the order had been delivered by the | SAMUEL H. JANNEY Junior Friar, the torch was solemnly and de- | A. A. WARFIELD. liberately applied to the pile, and at once the dames leaped upward and upward. The coffin was soon enveloped in flames, and thousands saw what had never been known here before—a human body cremated. Balconies, windows, housetops, trees, awnings, to say nothing of the living mass that thronged the street, were crowded to witness the proceeding. While the fire was lapping in angry fury the lifeless body of this great man, the Friar delivered, in the peculiar language of the order, a most eloquent and touching oratior.

Soon the coffin began to crumble, and a ghastly speciacle was presented to the cyc. The body, blackened, burning, hissing, smoking, was clearly visible, and as the stifling odors tilled the air the shricks and cries of men, women, and children were heard on all sides.

for the occasion, entitled, "He has gone to his long, long home, unsoaked by water," returned J. W. SUMMERS, whom we have associated to the hut, where the ashes were deposited in with us in business, and who will be prepared to the vault. Then the society dispersed. - Augusta Constitutionalist.

PROMPT DENIAL OF CHARGES AGAINST A RECTOR. - A statement appeared recently in the Monthly Chronicle alleging that Rev. C. Clifton Peniek, rector of the Church of the Messiali, Baltimore, and Bishop elect to Cape Palmas and parts adjacent, had used language disparaging the Book of Common Prayer, and was disloyal to the doctrine, discipline and worship of the protestant Episcopal Church. Soon after the publication a meeting of the vestry of the Church was held and resolutions adopted denying that Rev. Mr. Penick had uttered the lauguage alleged, or that he had in public service or private conversation taught, instructed, or insinuated anything to justify or give rise to the imputation referred to. They further express their entire contidence in him as a loyal presbyter of the Episcopal Church, and their highest regard and appreciation of him as a man, a Christian and a pastor. It is expected that Mr. Penick will, by the 1st of December, be officially notified of the action of the standing committees of the various dioceses on the question. Some of the standing committees acted at their October meetings, and the others will vote on it this month. The decision of each standing committee is forwarded to Bishop Smith, of Kentucky, presiding Bishop of the United States, who will notify Mr. Penick of the final result. There is little doubt that the standing committees will confirm the selection of the House of Bishops. Mr. Penick will announce his intentions at the proper time and in due form.

"DEFENDING THE CAPITOL FROM THE REBELS,"-The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says: Meantime the preparations for protecting the public property here go on. The man-of-war Wyoming, at the Navy Yard, which has been designated for the possible duty of covering the approach to Washington by way of the Anaeosta Bridge, is taking on her complement of powder and ammunition to put her in condition for repelling any raid from the Eastern Maryland side of the district. It is also reported at the Navy Yard that two light draught war vessels are on their way here, to take up position, one at the Long Bridge and the other at the Chain Bridge, over the Potomac. A draft of marines is expected from Brooklyn to reinforce the command new at the barracks here.

A dispatch from St. Louis says: The troops from the plains are now passing through this trom the plains are now passing through this city continually, on their way to Washington.

A Washington telegram to the Baltimore Sun says: It is reported in military circles that Washington is to be garrisoned by five regiments of regular troops, which will be organized as a brigade, and will consist of artility cavalry and infanter. There will be it is by, cavalry and infantry. There will be, it is the city. All orders intrusted to him shall receive said, two tull regiments of infantry, two of cavsiry, and three or four batteries of artillery. The entire force will consist of about two thousand effective men. There have been no additional arrivals of troops during the past two see them at
